Dakota Storm Swept.

A terrible wind and hail storm visited North Dakota on Tuesday, July 15th, ruining a good many fields of grain and damaging buildings to a great extent. In Meekinock, Gilby, Inkster, Conway and other towns, north and west, much damage was done. Wires were down everywhere and all telegraph service crippled. The storm swept in a southerly direction from the international boundary across to the northwestern part of North Dakota.

A St. Paul dispatch of July 17th, says: While it now seems practically certain that no lives were lost in the terrific storms that devastated a portion of Red River valley, near Grand Forks, N. D., on Tuesday night, the loss to farmers will be heavy. Hardly a farm in the pathway of the storm, and it was almost a hundred miles long by ten wide, but had some buildings either demolished or damaged. The loss of the wheat crop is reported to have been very heavy. Thousands of acres of wheat were literally beaten into the ground by the hail that accompanied the wind and rain. In some places every vestige of the crop was wiped out.

It is as yet impossible to make anything approximating a correct estimate of the damage, but it will doubtless be in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The State of Utah is paying $1 per bushel for grasshoppers, dead or alive. At Fowler, Colorado, they are eating the fruit from the trees. One farmer reports that they have eaten all the peaches on the trees, leaving the stones hanging from the stems. They have also attacked the alfalfa, and some farmers have been obliged to cut the alfalfa when only two-thirds grown.

Fever in Horses.

Dr. G. G. Menbery, of Ponoka, recently wrote to the department of agriculture, Regina, for information regarding the disease which is so prevalent and fatal amongst horses in several districts of the country. The letter was forwarded to Dr. J. G. Rutherford, chief veterinary officer of the Dominion. Dr. Rutherford replied as follows, the reply being published in the Ponoka Herald:

Dear Sir,—I have received from the deputy commissioner of agriculture at Regina, a copy of your letter to him of date, May 5th, describing a peculiar disease affecting the horses in your neighborhood. From the description which you give I am almost certain that the trouble is due to the Sclerostoma Tetracanthum one of the most troublesome and dangerous parasites to be found in any animal. The symptoms given correspond with those shown by animals infested by this worm, while its life history also favors your theory as to the animals contracting the disease only when feeding in low marshy land. This worm, however, does not pass into the blood vessels or lymphatics but encysts itself directly in the mucous membrane of the Colon and Cecum without entering the circulation. At least no wandering parasites of this kind have ever been observed. It remains imbedded beneath the mucous membrane until it attains sexual maturity, spending the remainder of its life at large in the intestinal canal. The red worm you mention answers the description of this Sclerostoma Tetracanthum while the long white worm to which you allude is most probably the Ascaris Megalocephala which often reaches six to ten inches in length. It is possible, however, that the white worms mentioned may only be abnormally large individuals of the Sclerostoma as experiments have demonstrated that it can be grown to double its original length and in so growing, loses the red color and becomes white. On the other hand this worm might be the Strongylus Armatus which is not infrequently found in the same part as the small red worm.

As regards prevention it is advisable to keep if possible, the animals from grazing on low lying land and to furnish the water supply from deep wells instead of from sloughs and lakes. Sulphate of iron in doses of from one to two drachms given once or twice a week will also be found beneficial in preventing the parasite obtaining a foothold. Once an animal becomes infested, the treatment consists in the administration of anthelmintics, followed by cathartics and this again by mineral and vegetable tonics which have a double action in building up the system and rendering the intestinal canal an unpleasant residence for any of the worms which may have withstood the more active treatment. You will probably find most success by giving as soon as you observe the first symptoms of the disease, iron sulphate in doses of from one to two drachms two or three times daily for a week. Follow this up by a dose of aloes, sufficient to cause mild purgation, the dose depending upon the age and size of the animal, after which a course of iron or copper sulphate with gentian, will be in order. I need not dwell upon the necessity of a liberal diet and pure water as also the most careful nursing in advanced cases. I trust that with your professional knowledge you will be able to successfully combat the conditions produced by this dangerous parasite. I am reasonably certain of the diagnosis but if you are not satisfied, and will let me know when some case in your neighborhood is apparently about to succumb, I will try to arrange for one of our inspectors to visit the district and assist you in making further investigations into the nature of the disease.

A Successful Picnic.

A most enjoyable picnic was held on Friday last under the auspices of the Workmen, Giddiford and Canadian Residents of town. It was an ideal day for an outing, and a large crowd was present from the town and district.

The grounds are beautifully situated on the banks of the Big Stone Creek, and the picturesque surroundings make it a perfect spot for a picnic. A large table was erected, upon which was spread all the good cuisine that appetite could crave. One of the attractions of the afternoon was a baseball match between the Mills Invincibles and the Wetaskiwin Newcomers. At the close of the game the town team was leading in the score. A football provided amusement for lovers of that game.

Dancing was engaged in all afternoon by a large number to the strains of excellent music rendered by an orchestra composed of Messrs. MacKenzie, Schornack and Schultz. The Wet-askiwin Citizens Band was present and delighted the crowd by rendering choice music. This was their first appearance, and many present were surprised that Wetaskiwin had such a good band. The boys wore their new uniforms—dark blue suit with white caps—which gives them a naty appearance. Altogether the picnic was a gratifying success, and should be made an annual event.
